

YOU'RE GONNA MISS HER

Lopaka Ho'opi'I, Zanuck Lindsey, Staci Karasaki, Michael Ruff

It seems just like yesterday
I woke to the sound of your cry in the night

Then I'd pull up your covers, read you a story
And all in the world was right
Now, I'm watching you leave and I'm stepping aside
It's so hard to let go
There's a certain kind of joy and a special kind of pain
That only a father could know

You're gonna miss her
When she's out on her own
With the one she has chosen
To have and to hold
So make the last dance matter
Even if your heart breaks
Tell her again and again and again
That you're gonna miss her

This selfish old heart it just melted away
On the day she was born
Don't you know I'd stop at nothing
To keep her keep her from harm

CHORUS

No matter what happens
You can always come home
You'll always be my little girl
Love you forever never forget
You're the light, the light in my world -

Make the last dance matter
Even if your heart breaks
Just tell her again and again and again
Tell her again and again and again
You're gonna miss her
